Shopping

People do shopping almost every day. When people want to buy something, they go to shops where various goods are sold. Through the shop-window we can see what is sold in this or that shop. Big supermarkets are self-service shops. Customers can buy all the necessary foodstuffs there: bread, milk, meat, fish, grocery, sausages, sweets, vegetables and fruit. When customers come into the shop, they take a food basket and choose the products they want to buy. When they put everything they want into the basket they come up to the cashier's desk. There is a computer with a laser scanner that reads and sums up the prices on packed goods at the cashier's desk. The saleswoman tells how much to pay. The customers pay the money and leave the shop.

At the grocer's you can buy sugar, tea, coffee, salt, pepper, ham, bacon, sausages, frankfurters and so on. Bread is sold at the baker's, meat at the butcher's. We go to the greengrocer's for vegetables and fruit. Cakes and sweets are sold at the confectioner's. When we want to buy clothes, we go to men's and ladies clothes shop. We buy boots and shoes at the footwear shop. We buy jewelry at the jeweler's. We buy books at the bookseller's.

Some shops may have many departments. These shops are called department stores or supermarkets. Supermarkets are self-service stores with departments for different food products. Supermarkets sell thousands of food products: meat, fresh fruits and vegetables, dairy products, canned groceries, bakery items, delicatessen items, and frozen foods. Some supermarkets also have seafood and alcohol. The supermarkets are located in shopping centres or malls and along main roads. Supermarkets are popular because they save time, have low prices and variety of products in one place. There you can buy almost everything you need. These shops are called self-service shops because there are no salespersons there but only cashiers at the cash desks. The customers choose the goods they want to buy and pay for them at the cash desk.

10. Прочитай и переведи грамматическое правило. Поставь в правильном порядке прилагательные в данных ниже выражениях.

There are two types of adjectives.

Opinion adjectives beautiful, great, expensive, etc describe what we think of someone or something.

Fact adjectives short, long, red, etc describe what someone or something really is.

Opinion adjectives go before fact adjectives.

When there are two or more fact adjectives in a sentence, they usually go in the following order:

Fact adjectives

size: small, big, short, long, etc.

weight: heavy, light, etc.

shape: triangular, round, rectangular, square, etc.

colour: blue, yellow, pink, etc.

material: cotton, leather, silk, plastic, metal, gold, velvet, wooden, etc.

1. a brown wooden beautiful box;

2. a cotton large grey shirt with a white collar;
3. a silk blue nice scarf with yellow wide stripes on it.

11. Переведи диалоги. Выучи один из диалогов наизусть.

Dialogue 1 At the Footwear Department

Shop-girl: What can I do for you, madam?
Customer: I'd like a pair of strong walking shoes for everyday wear.
Shop-girl: What size do you take in shoes?
Customer: My size is 37.
Shop-girl: Will you try on these brown shoes, please?
Customer: Don't you think that the heels are a bit too high for everyday wear?
Shop-girl: Oh, no, such heels are all the fashion now. But you can try on another pair. Here is a pair of nice flat-heeled shoes. Do they pinch?
Customer: I like them much better than those ones. Will you give me a shoe for the left foot, please?
Shop-girl: 50 dollars.
Customer: Will you wrap them up, please? Where is the cash-desk?
Shop-girl: It's at the end of the department.
Customer: Thank you. Good-bye.

Dialogue 2 At the Ready-made Clothes Department

Customer: I'd like a summer frock.
Shop-girl: Certainly. What size?
Customer: 46. I'm stock size.
Shop-girl: The dresses on that rail are all size 46. Look at them and you may find something to your taste.
Customer: May I try on this cotton dress? Does it fit me?
Shop-girl: It fits you perfectly but I don't think the color becomes you. It's too dark.
Customer: Have you got anything a shade lighter?
Shop-girl: I'm afraid we haven't. Would you mind trying on this light-blue?
Customer: But it's not genuine silk. It's too hot for summer wear.
Shop-girl: Will you drop in a couple of days? We are expecting most of our summer stock at the end of the week.
Customer: Yes, of course. Thank you. Good-bye.
Shop-girl: Thank you. Have a nice day.

Dialogue 3 At the Greengrocer's

Salesman: Morning Harry, how's it going?
Harry: Things are going fine Bob, how's business?
Salesman: Oh, the usual. So what'll it be for today? There's some fine eggplant, and there's some great zucchini..
Harry: What's that?..
Salesman: What ... this? This here is a tomato, Harry.
Harry: No, not that! That yellow thing, there. .
Salesman: Oh, this, these are yellow peppers. They are sweet. They're good in salad.
Harry: I'll take three.
Salesman: Okay, do you want this big one?
Harry: Yes, I want the three biggest ones.
Salesman: Okay, here you are.
Harry: Thanks.

Salesman: That's two twenty.

Harry: Two twenty for these peppers!

Salesman: That's the price.

Harry: Okay, but it's expensive. Here 's the money.

Salesman: Thanks. Prices are high for me too. Here 's your change. See you later.

Harry: Good-bye.

How We Tried to Buy Shoes

"How can we travel about Britain without knowing a word in English?" I said.

"Oh, it's all right," said Harris. "I've bought a conversation book. Here it is. It gives you a lot of useful phrases, and we shall look into it and speak to the Englishman."

"Let's go to London on Wednesday morning," said George, "and spend an hour or two in shoe shops. We shall try to buy shoes using phrases from this book."

We thought it a fine plan. The next morning we came to London and stopped at a little shoe shop. Near the door, on the floor and on the shelves there were boxes of boots and shoes. We saw shoes of different kinds everywhere- both for men and women, black and brown, large and small. The man who kept the shop was just going to open another box of shoes.

George raised his hat and said, "Good morning." He hoped, in answer to his politeness, to hear the polite "Welcome to our shop," as this was the answer in the conversation book. But the man did not even look at us. He went on with his work.

Then George said, again in the words of the book: "Mr. X, whom I hope you know, has told me about your remarkable shop."

To these words the conversation book gave the answer: "Mr. X is a very fine young man. I've known him for years, and I'll be happy to be useful to his friends."

But what the man said was this: "Don't know him; never heard of him."

That was a nice beginning! George looked into the conversation book again and read the next sentence which it gave: "They say you have boots to sell."

For the first time the man raised his eyes and looked at us.

"And what do you think I keep all these boots here for: to eat them?"

He was one of those men who become more and angrier as they go on talking.

"What do you think I am doing here?" he shouted. "Collecting boots for pleasure? What do you think it is- a museum of boots? Have you ever heard of a man who has a shoe shop and doesn't sell boots? What do you think I am? An idiot?"

"We had better leave," said Harris and started for the door. But at that moment George suddenly found an answer in the book, the cleverest answer he could find at the moment. "We shall come again, when you have some more boots to show us," he said. "Till then – good-bye."

16. Подготовь краткий пересказ текста.

17. Выпиши все ключевые слова по теме и объясни их значение.

The methods of shopping may vary. It may be a self-service shop where the customer goes from counter to counter selecting and putting into a basket what he or she wishes to buy. Then he or she takes the basket to the check-out counter, where the prices of the purchases are added up. If it is not a self-service shop, and most small shops are not, the shop assistant helps the customer in finding what he or she wants. You pay money to the cashier and he or she gives you back the change.

How Lightning Strikes

A thunderstorm is one of the most impressive sights in nature with huge menacing black clouds producing hot bright flashes of lightning and booming thunder as well as torrential rain or hail. But what causes these dramatic storms and what exactly are thunder and lightning?

Clouds are formed when a mass of cold air meets a mass of warm air. Water vapour in the warm air condenses to form clouds. Thunder clouds are typically very tall, dark and deep. Thunder and lightning are both caused when electrical charges build up in these clouds. However they believe that it has something to do with charged water droplets and tiny pieces of ice colliding inside the cloud. Normally a positively charged area forms in the upper region of the cloud and a negatively charged region forms in the lower region of the cloud.

These charges are incredibly large and so thunderstorms contain an enormous amount of energy. A voltage of more than 100 million volts can be generated between the cloud and the ground. Air will not normally conduct electricity but when such huge voltages are generated; the resistance of the air breaks down. We get a sudden spark, called an electrical discharge, which can occur inside the cloud, between the cloud and the ground, or between two different clouds. Because it is so powerful, lightning generates a lot of heat. A lightning strike can heat the air around it to more than 30,000 °C. That's five times hotter than the surface of the sun! The heat causes the air to expand incredibly quickly and we get the loud explosive sonic boom known as thunder.

So lightning and thunder are created at more or less the same time. If you have been caught in a thunder storm, though, you will know that we normally see the lightning first and then hear the thunder a few seconds later.

The light travels so quickly that it gets to us almost instantaneously but, in air, sound takes around three seconds to travel one kilometre. This means that if we count the number of seconds between seeing the lightning and hearing the thunder and divide by three we can find out how many kilometres away the storm is from us.

It can be very dangerous to be caught outside in a thunder storm. More than 100 people are killed by lightning strikes each year in the USA alone, and many more are seriously injured. If you do find yourself in this situation the safest thing to do is to crouch down close to the ground.

Lightning tends to strike at the highest point in an area so you are much more at risk near a tree, pole, or any other tall structure. You will be safer inside a metal-bodied car, or even better inside a building. If you are inside though, it is best not to take a shower or use a phone since lightning can strike phone lines or water pipes. Whatever you do, you shouldn't believe the saying that lightning never strikes the same place twice. Scientists observing thunder storms have noticed that certain tall buildings or trees can be struck a number of times, even during a single storm.

- A. Whatever you do, don't take shelter under a tree.
- B. This flash of electricity is a lightning strike.
- C. In fact lightning can be attracted to the same spot over and over again.
- D. Compare that to the voltage of the electricity supply in your home which is only about 200 volts.
- E. This is why lightning has its destructive forked shape.
- F. The warmer air is forced to rise quickly above the colder air.
- G. Scientists don't understand exactly how the charges are generated.
- H. This is because light travels faster than sound and so the light from the lightning reaches us before the sound from the thunder.

ENGLISH WEATHER

The weather in England is very changeable. A fine morning can change into a wet afternoon and evening. And a nasty morning can change to a fine afternoon. That is why it is natural for the English to use the comparison "as changeable as the weather" of a person who often changes his mood or opinion about something. "Other countries have a climate, in England we have weather". This statement is often made by the English to describe meteorological conditions of their country.

The English also say that they have three variants of weather: when it rains in the morning, when it rains in the afternoon or when it rains all day long.

The weather is the favorite conversational topic in England. When two Englishmen meet, their first words will be "How do you do?" or "How are you?" And after the reply "Very well, thank you; how are you?" the next remark is almost certain to be about the weather. When they go abroad the English often surprise people of other nationalities by this tendency to talk about the weather, a topic of conversation that other people do not find so interesting.

The best time of the year in England is spring (of course, it rains in spring, too). The two worst months in Britain are January and February. They are cold, damp and unpleasant. The best place in the world then is at home by the big fire in the fireplace.

Summer months are rather cold and there can be a lot of rainy days. So most people who look forward to summer holidays, plan to go abroad in summer to France or somewhere on the Continent.

The most unpleasant aspect of England weather is fog and smog. This is extremely bad in big cities and especially in London. The fog spreads everywhere, it is in the streets and it creeps into the houses. Cars move along slowly, but still street accidents are frequent in the fog. People can not see each other. They creep along the houses touching them with their hands not to lose their way or to be run over by a car.

3 DEGREES BELOW FREEZING

Looking for an exciting winter holiday? Then try the Ice Hotel in northern Sweden and spend a few days in a giant igloo. 2,000 tons of ice and 30,000 tons of snow are needed to build the ice Hotel every year. When the thermometer hits 3 degrees below freezing, the building of the hotel starts.

The hotel has rooms for over 100 guests, as well as an ice sauna, a cinema, the Ice Chapel and the world-famous Absolut Ice Bar. The temperature inside the hotel is minus 3 degrees Celsius, but that seems warm when you compare it to the temperature outside, which can fall below minus 30 degrees Celsius.

It is the perfect place for outdoor activities such as ice-fishing, skiing. A visit to the Ice Hotel is an unforgettable experience. Don't miss this chance of a lifetime!

WEATHER

In the morning, I looked out of the window and was very surprised. Everything was covered with snow! Snowy flakes were falling from the sky, everything was pleasant and beautiful! It was not frosty, and children were skating and making snowmen.

But look! The wind has risen! Snow is falling from the roofs to the ground. Small icicles are falling too. That's a real blizzard. It's not the best time for going out.

The Russians say, "The first snow always melts". And I know that after some months winter will be over, the trees will be in blossom, and birds will be singing and building their nests. This is spring, the time when all the nature awakes from its winter sleep.

Then summer will come – a long period of sunshine and time of holidays for schoolchildren and students. We can go swimming, diving or mountaineering. It's great to go cycling or hiking. We mustn't forget to take photos: they will remind us of these exciting days.

Time flies, and autumn comes. This is the period of harvest for countrymen, and for me it's the beginning of a new year of studies.

ENGLISH WEATHER

Russian: "What's the weather like in England?"

Englishman: "Today it's raining, and it's very foggy, as usual. You see, there is no hot summer, and there is no cold and snowy winter."

"Really? Why is it so?"

"You see, Britain is near the ocean, and the water there changes its temperature slower than the ground, it has greater thermal heat capacity. That's why the changes are not so great."

"Do you like when it rains?"

"When I was a child, I liked it! Now I simply don't notice it. I can walk without any umbrella when it's drizzling, and I never catch a cold."

"Do you have central heating at home?"

"Yes, I have a radiator, but I don't have central heating yet. The weather in the world becomes more and more unusual. That's why I must think about it."

"That's a good idea. Are there any beaches in England?"

"Yes, there are, mostly on the south coast, but the water isn't really warm. You'd better go to Spain. Many Englishmen do it. It's not so far, but the weather is completely different."

"Sure, I will do so."

I had had toothache for several days, but just hadn't enough courage to go to dentist. As matter of fact I went twice, but just as I got on his doorstep and was going to ring bell, toothache seemed to have gone away, so I went home again. But at last I had to go back, and this time I rang bell and was shown into waiting-room.

There were number of magazines there, and I had just go into middle of exciting story when maid came in to say Mr. Puller was ready to see me. I'll have to wait for next toothache to finish that story!

Well, I went into surgery (зубоврачебный кабинет) and he told me to sit in chair, and then he had look at inside on my mouth. He put little mirror on long handle inside my mouth and said, "I'm afraid we can't save that one, it will have to come out. I'll just give you injection."

So he filled syringe (шприц) with liquid. I felt little prick on gum (десна) and that was all. Then he waited for minute or so. Then he took instrument, got hold of my tooth, gave twist, then quick pull, and tooth was out. He said, "There's tooth, very nasty one."

"May I have tooth, please?" I said. "It has worried me good deal for last week, and so now I am going to put it on my dressing-table and watch it ache."

A. MAKING AN APPOINTMENT

Receptionist Can I help you?

Daniela I'm a visitor to this country and I need to see a doctor.

Receptionist What country do you come from?

Daniela Italy.

Receptionist That's all right. Italy is an EEC (European Economic Community) country, so we can treat you under the National Health Service. That means that you don't have to pay anything.

Daniela Thank you. When can I see a doctor?

Receptionist I can give you an appointment later this morning. At ten thirty?

Daniela That would be fine.

Receptionist Ten thirty with Dr. Robinson. Can I have your name and address?

Daniela Daniela Ponti. I'm staying at the Parque Court Hotel.

Receptionist Thank you, Miss Ponti. Just come to the desk at ten thirty and give your name. The doctor will call you when he's ready.

B. AT THE DOCTOR'S

Daniela has a bad cold, a cough and a temperature. She has been feeling ill for two days. She makes an appointment and goes to the doctor's.

Doctor Come in, Miss Ponti. Sit down. What seems to be the trouble?

Daniela I've got a bad cold and a cough. I think I've got a temperature and I feel quite ill.

Doctor Does your cough keep you awake at night?

Daniela Yes, it does. It's much worse when I lie down.

Doctor Let me look at your throat. Say 'Ah'.

Daniela Ah.

Doctor Oh yes. Your throat's quite swollen and very red. Could you cough for me while I listen to your chest ... Yes. That sounds all right. There's nothing wrong with your lungs.

Daniela Good.

Doctor Do you have any other symptoms?

Daniela I've got a bad headache that won't go away and I feel hot and cold sometimes.

Doctor You've got quite a bad throat infection, Miss Ponti. I'm going to write you a prescription for some tablets and some cough mixture. Take the tablets three times a day after meals and the cough mixture at night when your cough is bad. You must take all the tablets. Don't stop taking them because you feel better, it's very important to finish the course. Take the prescription to a chemist's and they will give you your medicine. And stay in bed for the rest of the day.

Daniela Thank you very much, doctor. I feel better already! I was worried that I was going to be really ill on holiday.

Doctor No, Miss Ponti. You'll feel fine in a day or two. But if you don't - come back and see me.

Daniela Thank you, doctor.

Doctor Not at all. Enjoy the rest of your holiday!

C. AT THE CHEMIST'S

Daniela and John are in a chemist's shop. They have come to collect Daniela's prescription.

Assistant Can I help you?

Daniela Yes. My doctor has given me this prescription.

Assistant Are you exempt from payment?

Daniela I'm sorry, I don't understand. I'm a visitor to this country.

Assistant I see. Well, if you are a child or an old age pensioner, or if you're unemployed, you don't have to pay for medicine.

Daniela Oh! Well, in that case I should pay.

Assistant It costs two pounds twenty for each item and there are two items on this prescription, so that will be four pounds forty altogether.

Daniela Here you are.

Assistant Take this ticket and come back in about fifteen minutes. Your prescription should be ready then. Just give the ticket to the man over there and he will give you your medicines.

Daniela Thank you very much. I'd like something for a sore throat as well, please.

Assistant These pastilles are good.

Daniela Yes, they'll do.

Assistant Would you like lemon or blackcurrent flavour?

Daniela Um ... lemon, please.

John And do you have any vitamin C tablets?

Daniela What do you need vitamin tablets for, John? You're not feeling ill, are you?

John No! They're for you! Vitamin C is good for you when you've got a cold!

Daniela Oh! Thank you!

Assistant Here you are. Fifty vitamin C tablets and your throat pastilles.

Daniela Thank you.

John Thanks a lot. (To Daniela) We have fifteen minutes to wait. Shall we go and have a cup of coffee and come back here at ten after eleven.

Daniela OK. And I'll buy the coffee. You bought my vitamin tablets!

CAN YOU FEEL THE RHYTHM?

“Routine” is usually seen as a negative term nowadays, largely because we no longer belong to a society of nine-to-fivers. We live in what is fast becoming a 24-hour society, where everything is open all hours. You can buy your groceries at midnight, book your holiday on the Internet at 3 am, and do business online at the crack of dawn. Before you join the 24-hour revolution, however, take a minute to listen to what your body is trying to tell you – that a round-the-clock lifestyle is not what nature intended.

In an area of our brains called the hypothalamus, we have a “body clock” that controls our body’s natural rhythms. It tells us when it’s the right time to eat, sleep, work and play. It plays an important part in our physical and psychological well-being. It is, in fact, what makes us tick and it controls many things including our hormones, temperature, immune functions and alertness. It synchronizes all these like a conductor with an orchestra; it regulates tempo and brings in all the different instruments on time to make music rather than random noise. If we try to ignore our body clocks, or even to switch them off for a while, we not only deprive ourselves of much needed rest but we also run the risk of seriously damaging our health.

Ignoring your body clock and changing your body’s natural rhythms can not only make you depressed, anxious and accident prone, it can lead to much more serious health problems. For example, heart disease, fatigue, ulcers, muscular pain, and frequent viral infections can all result from trying to outsmart our body clocks. Altering our patterns of sleeping and waking dramatically affects our immune system. While we sleep the body’s repair mechanisms are at work; when we are awake natural killer cells circulate around our bodies and cause more damage. Our digestive system is affected, too – high levels of glucose and fat remain in our bloodstream for longer periods of time and this can lead to heart disease.

Unfortunately, we were not designed to be members of a 24-hour society. We can’t ignore millions of years of evolution and stay up all night and sleep all day. We function best with a regular pattern of sleep and wakefulness that is in tune with our natural environment. Nature’s cues are what keep our body clocks ticking rhythmically and everything working in harmony. So, next time you think a daily routine is boring and predictable, remember that routine may well save your life in the long run.

“WORKING WITH THE SICK”

34- year-old Dianne Grey was a successful doctor in the south of England, but for the last eight months she has been living in Angola, working for an organisation called Doctors Without Frontiers that provides emergency health care in several African countries.

Dianna was a GP in Horshan, Surrey. She had a good career ahead of her and a comfortable life, but she began to find her job rather boring. She says, “I was treating patients with routine medical problems – colds, sore throats and so on – and I felt a need to do something more important”.

The organization she works for has been sending medical teams and equipment to Angola since 1986. Various armies have been fighting each other in the area for decades, and standards of health care have grown worse and worse. Outside the cities there aren’t enough hospitals, clinics, doctors or nurses, and many diseases have become a major problem.

At first Dianne was shocked, but she has been working hard to improve conditions there. During her time in Angola, she has treated thousands of patients and has been training local people as health care workers.

“Working here has been a very meaningful experience”, she says. “I have never felt so useful before. It’s so great to know that we have been helping people who really need it”. She will be leaving Angola next month, but she has already decided to return to Africa as soon as possible.

HEALTH

Many philosophers said wise things about health – how important it is for each person, and that once lost, it can't be restored. If a person eats bad food, smokes or takes alcohol, this ruins his health, and it's very good if he has time to stop and think.

In fact, health is something that is given to many of us since birth. But only active life and good nutrition can help us stay healthy as long as possible.

The first aspect of good health is a healthy diet. Food that you eat gives you energy, vitamins and fibre. And if it is junk food, it gives you extra weight and problems with your health.

The second aspect of good health is sport and exercises. Doctors recommend to use the stairs instead of taking a lift, and to walk during the break at school and college and not to sit at the same place. There are workers who have to sit at the working table for hours, but then they have problems with their kidneys, which is very serious.

What are other contributions to good health? Of course, it's the absence of bad habits. But it's also your attitude to life. If you are full of energy, optimism and kind-heartedness, your life will be good. But if you are always angry, if it is difficult for you to keep your temper, then the problems are on the threshold.

Finally, everything depends on us. Lifestyle is a way that leads to a happy and healthy life or to medical problems. The most important thing is to have a map that shows us the right way.

THE CITY OF IRKUTSK

The East Siberian city of Irkutsk with a population over 600000 is one of the oldest and most attractive of the large Siberian cities.

The history of the city is fascinating. It began as a Cossack settlement in 1661. The new trading outpost was built near the confluence of the Angara and the Irkut rivers. There is a belief that the name of the city originates from the name of the river. The word Irkut came from the language of native Siberians – people of the Mongolian physical type. It may be translated as «a speedy, fast flowing river».

Irkutsk was one of the earliest bastions of the Russian Empire in the East. Already in 1686 it received a town status. Since then Irkutsk has its own coat of arm in which animals are depicted: babr holding a sable in its teeth, it is symbol of Irkutsk power and wealth.

Now Irkutsk is the centre of one of the most important regions of Eastern Siberia, which occupies an area of the size of England and France combined / 768000 sq. km/.

The centre of the city is in Kirov Square which is lined with the Angara Hotel and the Linguistique University.

At the northern end of the square is the building of the Irkutsk Administrative, which ensures all-round economic, social and cultural development of the region. The space near the building of the Irkutsk Administrative is framed by three churches, the Church of Our Savior constructed in 1710, the Epiphany Church /1723/ and the Polish Catholic Church / 1884/.

Beyond the building of the Irkutsk's Administrative one can see the War Memorial. It was ceremoniously opened in May, 1975 when our country celebrated the 30th anniversary year of victory in the Great Patriotic War. The Eternal Flame burns in memory of Siberian soldiers who fought against fascists.

Before the Great October Socialist Revolution of 1917 Irkutsk was a city of striking contrasts. Irkutsk today is an industrial city, a major supplier of furs to world auctions. Sable, blue squirrel, muskrat and polar fox pelts are famous everywhere in the world.

Irkutsk is a city of highly developed science. There are many research and design institutes, some of them in the Academic City. The Irkutsk Technical University, established in 1918, was the first higher educational establishment in Eastern Siberia. In Irkutsk there are many other different educational establishments.

The city has several theatres, cinemas, a circus, stadiums. The residents of the city are invited to see the museums and places of historical interest of Irkutsk.

The History Museum features documents showing the development of the native Siberian peoples. The houses of the Decembrists Sergei Trubetskoi and Sergei Volkonsky have survived up to this day. In the Art Gallery you will see paintings and old copies of outstanding Russian and foreign artists.

The blend of new and past can be observed in every section of the city. Modern buildings stand side by side with old wooden houses decorated with fanciful carvings.

The residents of Irkutsk are proud of the city on the Angara River, the beautiful daughter of ancient Baikal. A cascade of high-capacity hydroelectric power stations was built on it.

Harry: Excuse me. Can you help me?

Vendor: Sure, what do you want?

Harry: Where is 83 Wooster Street?

Vendor: That's easy. (He points). Walk to the corner. Then make a left turn. Then walk 2 blocks to the traffic light. Make another left to Wooster.

Harry: Thank you. To the corner and then a left?

Vendor: Yeah. A left. Hot dog? Only 75 cents.

Harry: No. Thank you. I have a dinner date.

A little later Harry is still lost. He goes to pay phone and dials Susan's telephone number.

Harry: 555-9470... and it's busy... Try again. 555-9470... and it is still busy. (He walks to a grocery store to ask for directions). Excuse me, maam. I'm looking for 83 Wooster Street.

Woman: Yes. Wooster Street is 2 blocks, and 83 is to the right, about two houses.

Harry: Thank you, thank you!

Woman: You are welcome.

Daniela Excuse me. Is there a bank near here, please?

Passer-by Yes.

Daniela Could you tell us the way?

Passer-by Go straight along this road, past the first set of traffic lights, past the big church on your left...

Daniela Yes, I've got that.

Passer-by And then turn to the right and keep straight on until you come to some more traffic lights.

John Yes.

Passer-by Turn left there, and you'll see a bank a little way a long, on the right-hand side of the road.

Daniela Oh, I see. I go straight along this road, past the traffic lights and the church...

Passer-by That's right.

Daniela And then I turn left...

Passer-by No right.

Daniela Oh yes, right. And then I take the next turning on the left.

John Is it very far?

Passer-by Well, it's about fifteen minutes' walk.

Daniela Oh dear. That's quite a long way. Could we catch a bus?

Passer-by Yes, but in that case you must go back the way you came. Keep on this side of the road until you come to a bus stop. It's about two minutes' walk. You want number eleven or twenty-three, they both go past the bank. Ask the bus driver or conductor for Princes Road.

John Thank you very much.

At the bus stop

Daniela Oh dear. There are a lot of people waiting for a bus. I hope one comes soon.

John Yes, I must get some money before the bank closes.

Woman Are looking for a bank?

Daniela Yes, someone told us to get a bus here.

Woman The nearest bank is just down the road. Look, you can see it on the next corner.

John Hey. Thanks a lot!

Daniela Thank you very much!

Outside the bank

John Here we are. Why don't you go into that store and buy a guide book. Then we can decide what we want to see in London.

Daniela OK, I'll do that. And then shall we go to the cinema?

John Terrific! There's a movie I'd like to see at the Plaza, and I know where it is, so we won't have to ask the way!

The beginning of Karl Mark Street at the river is marked by an obelisk dedicated to explorers of Siberia. This monument was opened in 1908 to commemorate the coming of the 1st Trans-Siberian Train to Irkutsk \1898\.

The foundation of the monument is of granite imported from Finland. The pedestal was once topped by the bronze figure of Alexander 111. Much of the construction work of the Trans-Siberian Railway was carried out during his rule. On the left side of the pedestal there is the double-head eagle, the state emblem of Old Russia. In the niches there are bas-reliefs of Ermak, Muraviev-Amursky and Count Speransky. The latter governed the immense part of Siberia and contributed greatly to its economic, cultural and scientific development. On the outer corners of the pedestal there are emblems of 4 Siberia cities. The seal of Irkutsk depicts two animals: babr and sable. The legend tells that babr carries sable to the Russian Emperor. The animals are symbolic of Siberia's wealth and power.

Мемориал Вечного огня посвящен памяти воинов-сибиряков, павших в боях с немецко-фашистскими захватчиками. Решение о его строительстве было принято в начале 1975 года. Проект комплекса разработали главный архитектор города В.Н. Федорин, главный художник В.Г. Смагин и инженер Р.М. Маврина. Весь Иркутск строил мемориал: рабочие, студенты, воины, школьники. Мраморные детали и облицовочные плиты из сибирского мрамора обрабатывали камнерезы Слюдянки. Мемориал был создан в очень короткое время. Ко Дню Победы он был готов.. 8 мая тысячи Иркутян собрались на берегах Ангары, где предстояло зажечь Вечный огонь славы.

The Decembrists in Irkutsk

Let us stop at an old detached house of wood darkened with time. There is a plaque here saying that is Trubetskoy's house, the Decembrist's Museum.

The first Decembrists came to Irkutsk in the summer of 1826. From Irkutsk they were sent to different places: those sentenced to punishment went to remote, thinly populated areas of Eastern Siberia, those sentenced to hard labour, -to mines, factories, prisons and forts. All in all, 121 Decembrists were sent to Siberia. They were kept in irons, maltreated and forced to do hard manual labour. In spite of all this, they retained their best human qualities, strength and mobility of spirit, purity of ideals, and an active attitude towards life. At the Petrovsk Iron Foundry, Decembrists organized a "prison university" where each shared with all the others any knowledge he possessed. They lectured each other on history, literature and mathematics, and they studied foreign languages.

After serving their terms of hard labour, the Decembrists were deported to various places in Siberia. Some of them settled near Irkutsk and later in the town itself.

The Decembrists made a great contribution to the study of the history, geography, economy and ethnography of Siberia. They also continued their literary and journalistic activities.

The deeds of the Decembrists and their wives have always appealed to the Russian people. Serious scholarly studies, poems, novels, and plays have been written on the subject. A Memorial for the Decembrists is to be built in Irkutsk.

Siberia

Siberia's six million square miles pass through the icy wastes of the Arctic, through tundra, taiga and the endless steppe. Mountains, high plateaus and plains alternate.

Siberia could easily contain the whole of Western Europe. The Trans-Siberian Railway is the longest in the world; while the potential hydroelectric energy of the Siberian rivers is immeasurable the Angara alone could provide 70 billion kilowatt hours a year. And yet it is only one of the region's rivers which include the Ob, the Irtysh, the Yenisey, the Lena and the Amur. The largest hydroelectric plant in the world was built in Siberia on the Angara and some 23 others are being built on the Yenisey.

Siberia's forests are also unimaginably rich. Coal and iron ore deposits are very extensive in some districts of Eastern Siberia and in Western Siberia /Bakhar and Kolpashevo/. Siberia contains 90% of the Russia's coal reserves, 75% of the iron ore, 80% of the timber. Huge oilfields have been discovered near the ancient town of Tyumen, where the Samotlor field is said to be one of the largest in the world and is producing 50 millions tons of oil a year; in 1962 rich oil wells were tapped outside the village of Markovo, on the upper course of the Lena, and a whole new town, Nefteleensk, has grown around them. Siberia is also very rich in gold, silver and precious metals, even diamonds.

Lake Baikal.

1. A popular Russian song calls it 'majestic ocean, holy Baikal'. In the language of the Evenki tribe it is also called Lama [Sea] while in the Chinese chronicles it is Pe Hai, Northern Ocean.

Lake Baikal is some 400 miles long and has an area of over 12000 square miles-equal to that of Belgium and the Netherlands together. Its width varies between 18 and 50 miles. According to the latest measurements, it is more than a mile deep in places. It contains one sixth of all the fresh water in the world and it is also the world's oldest lake. Russian scientists claim that the depression was formed in the Tertiary era, 25 million years ago. It lies some 1,650 feet above sea level. Experts are still arguing about its origin and how seals and sea cow ever came to be in it not to mention the omul, a white fish of the salmon family which is one of the local culinary specialties. The water is crystal clear; a white sheet thrown into it can be seen clearly at a depth of 90-120 feet. It has hardly any taste, for it contains a negligible proportion of mineral salts. The currents are very slow. It is fed by 336 rivers but has only one outlet, the Angara. The water is cold- even in the hottest summers it never rises above 50-52 degree F though it rarely freezes before January; then the ice can be 24 or even 36 inches thick. It is frequently whipped by great storms. The Burgusin, the northeast wind, blows along its entire length. The other, even crueler, wind is the 80 m.p.h. Sarma, northwest wind, which wipes the waves up to considerable heights. For a shorter excursion, visit Listvyanka, with its Limnological Institute where you can hear a lecture on the extraordinary history and ecology of Baikal. The Russians have created a special scientific discipline they call "baikology". Experts have identified 1800 different creatures which are unique to Lake Baikal, many of them survivors which have become extinct elsewhere, or so the theories go.

2. An Old Baikal had 333 obedient sons who were the source of his infinite wealth. Their brothers in shoals of fish presented their father with gold of the sunrise and sunset and ordinary gold too. Only their sister, the capricious Angara wasted the riches they assed. One day black seagulls flew to the Angara from far away to tell her about the handsome and tightly Yennisey who lived beyond endless taiga. Even before Angara set her eyes on him she fell in love with Yenisey and decided to run away to him.

When Baikal heard about it he locked Angara in a stone dungeon. But can any force hold love imprisoned? Angara broke through the ring of the mountains tossing great boulders about, and when night fell she ran away to her beloved.
